

Dear Ms Dortch:

The current blackout rule can be unfair to those of us that cannot attend the games due to various reasons such as illness, age , care for family & children, cost of tickets or those who find the crowd at the games uncomfortable.

Our local teams can benefit financially from their fans whether they attend the games at the stadium or watch on Television. Our local businesses can benefit by playing the games on television while customers come in to eat. It's a win - win situation for the economy in any locality.

Remove the Black Out Rule.

Sincerely:

Rose Brownell
